

When men have more rights than women?		The difference between people?		Giving someone the ability to do something for themselves?
Maintaining a service users rights to keep information secure		Types of abuse		What is the assumption that certain nationalities behave in a certain way?	When people or groups of people are treated differently in comparison to others?
Is based on the differences in the work they do and the money they earn?		What is usually shown in people's attitudes to others and is harder to prove?		Is the assumption that young adults are more capable than the old?
They ensure vulnerable service users can express their views		The cause of discriminatory practice due to uniformed attitudes and beliefs		If someone is rude, hostile or offensive to someone because they are different?	When service users are given choice these are upheld
they ensure that service users receive the appropriate care and treatment		When a heterosexual person judges other types of relationships wrong or abnormal?		A system where everyone has the same chance to obtain or achieve something?	