|--|--|---|--|
| You see, we have to share something. If there's nothing else, we'll have to share out guilt | | You mustn't try to build up a kind of wall between us and that girl | |
| We are member of one body. We are responsible for each other | | The famous younger generation who know it all | |
| As they stare guiltily and dumbfounded, the curtain falls | | The point is, you don't seem to have learnt anything | |
| Unsinkable, absolutely unsinkable | | Nothing but morbid curiosit | |
| There are millions and millions and millions of Eva Smiths and John Smiths | | Probably a Socialist or some sort of crank hility | |
| Why should you do any protesting? It was you who turned the girl out in the first place | | "a man has to mind his own business and look after himself and his own" | |
| This young woman, Eva Smith, was a bit out of the ordinary | | I wasn't in love with her or anything - but I liked her - she was pretty and a good sport | |
| The Germans don't want war. ... Everything to lose and nothing to gain by war | | I rather respect you more than I've ever done before | |
| First, the girl herself. ... Secondly, I blame the young man who was the father of the child... He should be made an example of | | Between us we drove that girl to commit suicide | |
| But you weren't asked to come here to talk to me about my responsibilities isq | | She'd had a lot to say - far too much - so she had to go | |
| It's my duty to ask questi don't come into this suicide businessions | | I don't come into this suicide business | |
| But these girls aren't cheap labour - they're people | | Yes, I think it was simply a piece of gross impertinence | |
| If we were all responsible for everything that happened to everybody we'd had anything to do with, it would be very awkward, wouldn't it | | so long as we behave ourselves, don't get into the police court or start a scandal - eh | |
